The stereo type

You know him. Or Maybe you are him. The kind of guy (or girl) who appreciates fine sound. Who has an ear for quality. We know him too. He's our customer. So we've decided to cater to him. To offer him some of the finest stereo equipment available. From seven of the world's best known manufacturers — Kenwood, Hitachi, Goodman, Norelco, Dual, P.E. and Sony. That's why we've opened a special new stereo shop at our Downtown store and why we've stocked it with a full range of name brand sound equipment — amplifiers, receivers, tuners, tape recorders, turntables. And why we've staffed it with qualified sales people and technicians that will not only help the stereo type choose the best sound system possible, for him, but will go out to his home and help him put it all together. We've done all this for the stereo type. For you. Come up and hear us sometime — the Fourth, Downtown.

THE RULES HAVE CHANGED

Hockey wasn't always as it is today.

Remember the days of the rover? The cover point? And seven man hockey teams?

Yes, times have changed but so have the rules.

1917-18 was in the era of the stand-up goaltenders and they were backed by the rules. Rule 13 of the NHL of that year stated, "The goalkeeper must not, during play, lie, kneel or sit upon the ice but must maintain a standing position."

And wouldn't that affect the flip-floppers of today?

There was another 1917-18 rule maybe still makes sense.

The rule stated, "Coaching from the side of the rink through a megaphone is absolutely prohibited."

Few coaches these days need a megaphone, you can hear them well enough without.

On occasion perhaps a little too well.

And would you believe the 1918 penalty for fighting?

The offender was "ruled off for such a length of time as in the opinion of the referee shall constitute an adequate penalty."

Would Medicine Hat love that rule. Like you're off for 56 minutes.

Rule changes of course have been important to hockey's success.

The delayed penalty was introduced in 1925, making it mandatory that teams have at least four players in action.

In earlier days it was possible for a team to be reduced to three, two, one or even no players.

In 1943-44 the red line was introduced which led to the modern tactic of head-manning the puck and fast breaks.

One rule change was the result of one team and its power play.

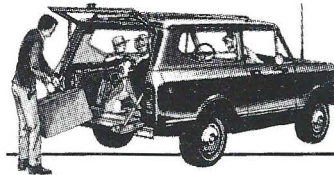

In 1956-57 the Montreal Canadiens had the most awesome power play in hockey with Maurice Richard, Bert Olmstead, Jean Beliveau, Doug Harvey and Bernie Geoffrion.

Prior to that year a penalized player was forced to sit out the entire two minutes.

The Montreal power play changed that.

With the ability to score two or three times during the two minute penalty, the rule was changed to allow the penalized player to return to the ice following a goal against his team.

HOCKEY'S 3 MAIN RULES

Learn these rules and you will know the cardinal principles of hockey

1 ICING THE PUCK

Icing the puck is not permitted when the teams are at equal numerical strength. Thus it is an infraction when a player on his team's side of the red center line shoots the puck all the way down the ice, it crosses the red goal line at any point other than the goal itself and is first touched by a defending player. When this occurs, play is stopped and the puck is returned to the other end of the ice for a face-off in the offending team's zone.

Icing the puck is not called if:

- the goalie plays the puck by leaving his net;
- if puck cuts across part of the goal crease;
- When a defending opponent, in the judgment of the lineman, could have played the puck before it crossed the goal line;
- when an attacking player who was onside (in the same zone) when the puck was shot down the ice, manages to touch it first; and
- when a team is playing shorthanded because of a penalty or penalties.

OFFSIDE

A team is offside when any member of the attacking team precedes the puck carrier over the defending team's blue line. The position of the player's skates and not that of his stick is the determining factor. If both skates are over the blue line before the puck, the player is offside. If he has only one skate over the blue line and one on it, he is onside.

OFFSIDE PASS

When a player passes the puck from his defending zone to a teammate beyond the center red line (thus crossing the blue line and the red line) it is an offside pass. The position of the puck (not the player's skates in this case) is the determining factor in deciding from which zone the pass was made.

HOW HOCKEY STARTED

The world's first ice skates were made of bone more than 600 years ago. Later they were made of wood and iron and finally of steel in 1850.

Hockey started at about that time with a few rules added in 1855 and the first organized game was in Kingston, Ontario in 1870.

Players used field hockey sticks and a lacrosse ball.

By 1890 almost every Canadian town had a hockey team. Games were played outdoors and fans stood on the ice.

The Kingston rink originally had a band stand in the middle to add to the excitement and wouldn't that add a little confusion this day and age?

A game consisted of two wild, and wooly 30 minute periods and in those days favorite trick was to spit tobacco juice into the opponent's face.

There were no board, goal net or protection for goalers. The first professional league was founded in Ontario in 1908 and was quickly followed by others across the country. The National Hockey League was started in 1917.

Toronto had the first indoor rink, just before confederation and, this may surprise you, Vancouver had the first artificial ice arena in 1911.

COACH'S CORNER

by Scotty Munro

Shut - out savvy!

Stay on your feet as much as possible, fall only as a last resort.

Relax when the puck is down at the other end, but never take your eyes off it. Be especially alert when the puck starts to come your way and gets to centre ice.

Ignore shots that are not headed directly for your net unless they are likely to rebound dangerously.

Watch out for possible deflections, but always keep your eye on the shot - not the opponent who is in a position to deflect it.

Be alert for an opposition penalty. The moment the official raises his arm, race to your bench so that an extra attacker can get on the ice.

Be careful when you come out of your crease. You are wide open to body - checking and could be knocked out of position to get back into the net for that next shot.

Check your stance when there's a face - off in your zone. Face the puck directly, don't just watch it out of the corner of your eye. Keep pads slightly apart. Leave no room on the short side, this cuts down the shooting angle. Keep your catching hand ready at your side.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR LEAGUE PRESIDENT

It is with pride and satisfaction that I offer my first message from the President's Office to the greatest hockey fans in the world -- you, the WCHL Fan!

Pride because the Board of Governors of the WCHL had the foresight to strive to bring the most exciting hockey in the world to 12 centres spread over four provinces in Western Canada. Satisfaction from over 50 of our players being drafted by the NHL and the WHA and many whom no doubt will step right in and play major professional hockey immediately.

Pride and satisfaction that over one and one-half million fans supported our clubs, and believed in the WCHL. Before you on the ice tonight, are tomorrow's stars and super-stars.

It goes without saying the opportunities available to the young hockey player today are unlimited, and it is the hope of the WCHL that the young men in our league will take advantage of the educational opportunities afforded them, as well as achieving their athletic goal.

I like to feel the young men in our league are receiving the greatest apprenticeship or University training one can get in life.

It gives me a great deal of pleasure in welcoming Kamloops Chiefs to our league this season, and I am confident because of their past success they will be a valuable addition to the WCHL.

With the Memorial Cup being played in Calgary next May 5 to 12, the WCHL will receive much more national recognition and with that goes national recognition to Calgary hockey fans as being the best.

I am anxiously looking forward to the Memorial Cup festivities next May because of the excellent hospitality and western friendship that will be evident from Calgary fans.

Calgary was responsible for the popularity of the Grey Cup and now I'm sure the Calgary hockey fans will do the same to the Memorial Cup.

In closing, I would like to wish all WCHL clubs the best in the upcoming season, as well as you, the hockey fan, a season of "hockey fun".

Fast, Courteous Service

The Executive Jet: Number one where it counts.

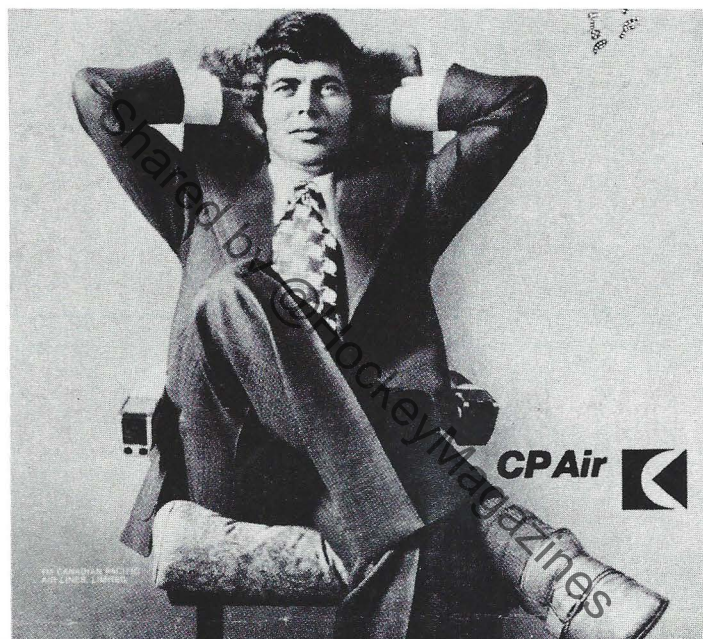

Where it counts is with the passenger: the person who pays us to take him places.

We spend a lot of time and energy keeping our passengers satisfied. For business reasons, yes; but also because it's a point of pride with us. We've been in the "luxury travel" business for years, with ships and trains and fine hotels, and we want to keep it "luxury."

That's why we go to great lengths to find stewardesses who are helpful and intelligent. And why we hire stewards, many trained in fine European hotels. And serve our meals on china and glass instead of plastic.

It's also why we import fine wines from Europe. And why we bring you cheeses, meats, crab, lobster, fruits and vegetables from all over Canada and the world. And why our meals are overseen by 14 European chefs, and our food is the best we can find.

We think quality is more important than quantity. So even if you have to wait a bit, why not try an Executive Jet the next time you fly across Canada?
